THE LIFE OF NEWPORT.

Newport is a social problem. The form which life has taken here within a few past years, and its prospective development will repay a serious study.

The sudden rise of the town into notice as a watering-place, was a very ordinary phenomenon. Out of even poorer materials, fashion could easily have created it, as fashion has already created and destroyed scores of other summer resorts: and the real merits that we claim for our town—the delicious breezes, the ocean, the beautiful drives, the unequalled bathing—might all have been insufficient, at some future time, to ensure the continued smiles of that most fickle goddess. But Newport has ceased to be a mere watering-place—it is no longer a boarding-house, but a summer home; and in this change we trust we can see the elements of a permanent prosperity. Those who have covered our suburbs with elegant and expensive residences will hardly prove mere birds of passage.

It was not our intention, however, to speak of this merely as affecting the prospects of the city. There is a significance in this change of far wider interest. Have we—a prosaic, money-loving nation, as we are supposed to be—already the elements of a finer and more cultivated life, of a finer and nobler aristocracy than the world has yet seen? Can we show other nations the example of one city where amid all beauties of external nature, we may find collected all that is most refined and cultivated in social life? Let us hope that Newport may yet answer these questions for us, as we would wish them to be. The wealth that is always concentrated here, is sufficient for such a life, and the names of many of our residents or constant visitors are guarantees that leaders and examples will not be wanting. At some future time we shall resume the subject, and endeavor to show what are the other elements necessary to the fulfillment of our wishes. Meanwhile, we commend it to the thoughts and the pens of our fellow-citizens, trusting that some at least of the many who are competent will assist us in a thorough discussion of it.

THE NEW JERSEY MYSTERIOUS BURIAL CASE.—The examination into the cause of the death of Margaret Dale on board a pleasure boat—before mentioned—was concluded Friday evening, the jury returning a verdict at 11 o'clock, that she came to her death from disease of the lungs and brain, and that her death was probably hastened by unkind and cruel treatment at the hands of Dr. Conover and wife—the latter being her own sister; that they, by such abuse, violated all laws of society and humanity, and that the conduct of Dr. C. in interfering, exhuming and re-intering the body, was in the highest degree censurable. It appeared in the testimony that Dr. C. had on one or two occasions whipped Margaret with a stick, and kicked her with his boot, and that she had frequently been boxed and pulled about. The doctor's oldest son, 17 or 18 years old, stated that they treated her only as a servant, and that he did not know until after her death that she was a relative of his. No cause is given for the treatment she received, except that she was weak-minded and rather stubborn. Doctor Conover, who had been present during the whole of the proceedings, returned to Newark on the 11 o'clock train.—Bost. Trav.

The Jewish question had taken a new shape in the British Parliament. It appears that an act passed during the reign of William IV., with regard to oaths administered by public bodies, is thought to do away with the oath which the Jews cannot take on entering Parliament, and to substitute any innocuous declaration instead. This construction of the act is new, and was accidentally discovered and after an earnest debate on two evenings, a large committee has been appointed by the House of Commons to inquire into it.—Prov. Trans.

ABUNDANCE OF FRUIT.—This is, perhaps, the most prolific fruit season we have ever had. It is generally so throughout the country. From all quarters we have accounts of great abundance. Our own market is already glutted with peaches, water-melons, canteloupes, tomatoes, and every species of fruit, with indications of a still greater supply when the season further advances. It is becoming very cheap—a fact which all consumers must rejoice to hear.—Baltimore Patriot.

INTERESTING SIGHT.—The Irish band has brought a suit against the most prominent Democrats in the city for its services on the night of the great Buchanan torch-light procession in October last. It is most ungrateful in our democratic friends not to say this till, without the aid of the ribbons, they would have made a very sorry display at that time. It was well understood then, that this patriotic portion of our fellow-citizens refused to participate in that grand demonstration unless their favorite band was employed.—Prov. Jour.

THE POTATO ROT has made its appearance in various parts of the country. In Monmouth County, N. J., the farmers are said to be ploughing up their lands previously planted with potatoes, and design replanting them with turnips. Thousands of hills have been dug up, and the potatoes are much rotted and entirely useless. In some portions of Maine, the rot has also made its appearance; and we have heard of some indications of it in this vicinity.

"When a feller has reached a certain pint in do' skin," said an old southerner, "I think he ought to stop." "Well, I think, said a wag, he had better stop before he reaches a pint."

LOCAL NEWS.

Don't forget the excursion to Block Island this morning, it presents a capital opportunity for persons wishing to visit that secluded and seagirt isle which is seldom if ever presented to us by a first class steamer.

The occasion of this excursion is one of considerable interest, i. e. the dedication of a new Baptist church, taking all these things into consideration, we should advise all those who can spare the time to invest fifty cents in a trip to Block Island and back.

The "Tableaux Vivans" given at the Fillmore House on Saturday evening were very successful. The Ladies parlor was crowded with spectators. Among the illustrations were "Nothing to Wear," and "Night and Morning." Another series of these "living pictures" is to be given during this week.

Mr. Newell, of this city, has on exhibition in the window of Mr. H. Tisdale's store, a beautiful Oil Painting of Capt. Thos. Bigley's Bark "Saranac." It is well executed, and a faithful likeness of this favorite vessel.

On Sunday last, our churches were all remarkably well attended. Bishop Clark preached an appropriate sermon on the occasion of Rev. Mr. Leverett's Ordination, and in the afternoon preached at Emanuel church, and baptised an infant child of the Rector. In the evening, notwithstanding the severe storm, a congregation assembled at Zion church, when the Bishop again preached. The music on each of these occasions was remarkably good.

We understand that a young scamp by the name of Reed was arrested in this city a day or two since, on the charge of stealing from a store in Providence.

The August session of the Supreme Court, for the county of Newport, commenced yesterday and continues during the remainder of the week.

The scene at the Fort yesterday afternoon was as usual lively and interesting. The day was fine, the music good, and the pleasure seekers evidently highly gratified with all they heard and saw.

We understand that the Members of the Methodist Episcopal church on Marlboro Street, contemplate having a grand Picnic and merry-making to-morrow, (Wednesday) at Cherry Grove, which is to commence in the morning and last the entire day.

There will be a Hop this evening at the Atlantic House.

Likes and Dislikes.

MR. EDITOR:—You know that is a common saying that "we all have our likes and dislikes," I have mine, and I want to tell you one or two of them.

I do very much like to see a lady—when a stranger politely yields to her the seat he had himself paid for and occupied, whether in church, rail-car or elsewhere—as politely acknowledge her favor, at least by a pleasant look; and it is rather my impression that she will do so, invariably and promptly, if she be indeed a lady, and not very forgetful.

One of my "dislikes,"—and a pretty strong one, for so small a matter, is that paltry, bogus-looking coin, the New Cent certainly one of the meanest things, in the shape of money, that I ever set eyes on.—A decent counterfeit would need to be ashamed of its company; and yet it seems our federal government is not ashamed to have got up such a wretched substitute for the highly respectable old copper coin, and seriously contemplate its forming a part of the national currency! I consider it disgraceful to the country. I do most heartily wish the new mongrel cent could be everywhere driven from circulation, with utter contempt.

But, to leave small things, and speak of great—I have a strong liking for that good national work, Dr. Webster's American Dictionary, as incomparably superior to anything else I have seen in that line; and I believe I have seen most of the English dictionaries that have been got up within the last hundred and fifty years. But I am sorry to say I find something that I do not quite like, even in Dr. Webster.

I do not admire the use of such words as actress, authoress, editress, poetess, eccentric, and the like—the words actor, editor, etc., belonging as truly, in my judgment, to the one sex as to the other—precisely as much so as the words artist, weaver, &c. An actor is one who acts, as I understand it. What, then is an actress? It matters not what the dictionary says;—what does common sense say?

I cannot say that I believe in any such words as nooz, (for news;) trooth, (for truth;) deff, (for deaf;) wound, conclusion, and other fopperies of the sort. These are partially wickerisms, and may do very well for pedants, but it seems to me that sensible people and scholars should avoid them. I am sorry to say we often hear them in public addresses, and even in the pulpit. I defy any man to assign a tolerable reason for any of them. N. B.—"Usage" is not a tolerable reason; if it were, why then plenty of follies and vices would be tolerably reasonable!

Finally—I not only dislike, but I fairly despise, the paltry habit of juggling all sorts of gawky French words into our language. In the name of decency, is not our mother tongue already sufficiently uncouth, irregular, and outlandish? And must we submit to have it made still more so, by the constant infusion of foreign terms, not one in forty of which is pronounced anywhere in the neighborhood of its orthography? Nor does one reader in ten properly apprehend the meaning intended to be conveyed by these foreign interlopers. I protest against the whole thing, as foppish, pedantic and unwise—in short, an intolerable nuisance, that ought to be abated. FRANKLIN.

We take pleasure in calling attention to the announcement of the annual Concert and Soiree Dansante of the Belle Vue Musical Society which will be found in another column. These talented musicians have now become a part of Newport and Newport life in summer, much to the advancement of good music and the pleasure of our summer guests. It is unnecessary for us to say anything further in their favor, for they have earned a deserving reputation among us, which we are sure will not be forgotten on this occasion of their annual Benefit. We anticipate a brilliant, well attended and delighted audience.

It will be seen by the notice in another column that Mr. Hasko, so well known to our citizens and visitors as a teacher of dancing, has for the present left us. His patrons and pupils here will be glad to see that he will return to us next summer.

GENERAL NEWS.

INTERESTING WEDDING PARTY.—MARRIAGE OF TWO MUTES BY A MUTE CLERGYMAN.—In the city of Lexington, on the evening of August 5th, was witnessed such a wedding party and such a marriage ceremony as perhaps never occurred in the United States, certainly not in the State of Kentucky. Mr. John Blount, the bridegroom, is a deaf mute, who was brought up in Alabama, but received his education at the Kentucky Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, at Danville, where he is at present an accomplished and highly esteemed instructor. He is a tall and fine-looking specimen of a man, and a gentleman in every sense of the word. Miss Lucretia Ann Hoagland, the bride, is also a deaf mute. She was educated in the Institution at Danville, and would pass for a beautiful and accomplished lady in any circle of society. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hoagland, the parents of the bride, at whose house the marriage took place, are also both deaf mutes. They received their education some twenty-five or thirty years since at the same institution. The three other children—two of whom hear and talk; their youngest, a little boy of nine years old, is, like the bride, a mute, and expects before long to go to the same institution, to obtain that inestimable blessing—a good education—which his father, mother and sister have received before him.

There was also present, as invited guests, some twelve or fifteen educated mutes, all of them present or former pupils of the above named institution. Louisville Journal.

GOV. ROLLINS ON BACHELORS.—The following is a specimen of the free-and-easy style with which Major Rollins, the recently elected Governor of Missouri, has been addressing the people of that State:—

"All that I have to say is this, if you should elect me Governor, I think the administration of the State, and of the city government under my friend Winner, will go on harmoniously and swimmingly together. I will avail myself of his services in advancing the interests of the State. If I should be your Governor, I will make you a most clever hospitable gentleman. At my home you can find my wife and children; but not so with Stewart. He is an old bachelor; his heart is as hard as a flint. [Laughter.] He has never been moved to generous impulses by the influence of woman's charms; and visiting him you will find a home cheerless and desolate, forlorn enough to damp the ardor of a generous heart. He is not the proper man for you. Look into the bachelor's den [roars of laughter] and see if you like it. It except the present company, if there be any bachelors in it. It is true that he said, the other day, that he had been trying to change his condition for twelve long years and had failed. [Laughter.] If that is true, it is the most solid argument against him; because you know, all of you, that among the striking characteristics between the two sexes, the most prominent is the keen perception and the keen insight into the human character which women have; and it is because the woman, knowing at a glance [laughter] that [the risibility of the meeting was here so great that he buried the words of the Major entirely]—is the condemnation of the female sex resting upon his head, and you cannot, if you would vote for him."

TEA AS A SUMMER DRINK.—Frederick Sala, writing from Russia to the "Household Words," mentions that on a table near him stands "a largish tumbler filled with a steaming liquid of a golden color, in which floats a thin slice of lemon. It is tea—the most delicious, the most soothing, the most thirst-allaying drink you can have in summer time and in Russia." Tea flavored with a slice of lemon we have never tried; neither are we prepared to recommend as a summer beverage, tea steaming hot, as Sala does.—But tea made strong (as we like it, or as strong as you like it) well sweetened, with good milk, or better, cream in it, in sufficient quantity to give it a dark yellow color, and the whole mixture cooled in an ice chest to the temperature of ice water, is "the most delicious, the most soothing, the most thirst-allaying drink" we have ever treated ourselves or friends to. We know of nothing to compare with it for deliciousness or refreshment. It cheers, but not intoxicates. Its stimulus is gentle, its flavor exquisite. Try it, good reader; make a note of this now, and when the summer fever visits you, and you feel, with Sidney Smith, that for the sake of coolness you could get out of your flesh and sit in your bones, try our specific of ice-cold tea. Ice cream is the only preparation fit to be mentioned with our cold tea.

CHARLES PENNO HOFFMAN, THE PORT-HIS INSANE FANCIES.—Every visitor of intelligence who enters the Asylum calls to see Hoffman. He receives them all with a hearty greeting, will ask them to sup and drink with him, and when they leave invite them to "call often." On the last occasion that we saw him, after sitting in his cell and indulging in a pleasant chat—no, not pleasant, for the feeling of his condition prevented this—he ordered at several times some of his fellows to fetch wine and glasses. They would just stare at him, and he would seem to forget it, until suddenly the order would be repeated and again forgotten. He generally labors under the idea that his place of confinement is a garrison, of which he is the commander, and is only prevented from enjoying the outside by advice of his physicians. He will frequently endeavor to prevail on the superintendent to grant him liberty to roam through the country for a while, and when this is refused will submit quietly. Hoffman wears a cocked hat continually, and walks with a cane. His appearance bears the mark of eccentricity and genius but the former may not have been the case before his insanity.—His voice is clear, commanding, but still cheerful.—Harrisburg Herald, Aug. 18.

GAS IN RAILROAD CARS.—The New Jersey Railroad Company has successfully tried the experiment of lighting a car by gas. The experiment was tried on a car of a Newark train from Jersey City on Wednesday night, and last night one of the cars of the train to Philadelphia, was lighted in the same manner. The gas is taken from the pipes of the Gas Light Company, and pressed into an apparatus to which machinery is attached, which affords force to make the gas flow steadily for seven hours.—N. Y. Cour. & Eng.

WHY DON'T HUSBANDS WRITE WHEN AWAY FROM HOME?—A few days ago a man returned to Lowell, after a four years' absence in Australia, and found his wife married again, and with a child by her second husband. The wife justifies her second marriage on the ground of the supposed death of her first husband, to whom, now that he has made his appearance, she is ready to return. The second husband has taken possession of the babe, and the other parties are to take legal measures for its recovery.—Boston Bee.

A LADY'S DOG WORTH A HORSE.—The subject of advertisement is copied from the London Times:—"A gentleman, who, through the death of his lady, has a very small and exceedingly handsome black and tan terrier weighing a little over 15 lbs., for which he has been offered a large sum, wishes to part with it, to be kindly treated. Would be happy to exchange with a lady or gentleman having a horse, which they wish to be also kindly treated (and having no use for) for his own riding or driving. Undeniable reference will be asked for and given."

TO TAKE GREASE OUT OF CARPETS.—Scrape a pound together in equal proportions, magnesia in the lump and fullers' earth; having mixed these substances, pour on them a sufficient quantity of boiling water to make into a paste; lay this paste as hot as possible upon the grease spots in the carpet and let it dry. Next day, when the composition is quite dry, brush it off, and the grease spots will have disappeared.

STATUE OF JOHN ADAMS.—The statue of John Adams, by Randolph Rogers, the distinguished American sculptor, has been completed at Rome and shipped for Boston, where it may be expected to arrive in the course of a few weeks. In consequence of the lamented illness of Mr. Crawford, the statue of James Otis may be delayed, but it may, nevertheless, be regarded as sure of completion, the design and plaster model having been finished by that artist, and placed in the hands of the marble workers some time before his attack of illness.—The Press.

The Rev. H. H. Garnet, of New York, and late Missionary to Jamaica, will speak at the State House, this evening, at 8 o'clock. Subject: "Jamaica as it was in Slavery." The speaker is a highly educated and refined colored gentleman, and is eminently capable to do honor to the subject of his address. Let him have a full house.

SOMETHING NEW EVERY WEEK.
Testimony in favor of Prof. O. J. WOOD'S Hair Restorative Voluntary Certificates, of which one will be published every week.
No. 3.
Boston, Sept. 10, 1855.

Prof. Wood.—Dear Sir:—Allow me to express my thanks to you for what your invaluable Hair Restorative has done for me and mine. My daughter has for some years been much afflicted with nervous or periodical headache, so much so that she has been incapacitated for study or any other engagement most of the time; and after trying the prescriptions of our best physicians to no purpose, by the recommendation of your agent, she tried one bottle of your Hair Restorative; and strange to say, it produced an immediate and permanent cure; and for the last year she has had no attacks whatever. He also did the same thing for a lady friend of mine, who was, most of the time, afflicted in the same way. It is proper to add that both use it occasionally for toilet purposes, and would, by no means, be without it. It has also restored my hair perfectly to the original color. Wishing you the success you so richly deserve. I am yours, respectfully,
J. B. LOGAN.

Beware of articles purporting to produce "results similar," as they are only abortive attempts to palm off a miserable article on the popularity of this one, under a different name! O. J. WOOD & CO., Proprietors, 413 Broadway, N. Y. (in the great N. Y. Wire Railing Establishment) and 114 Market Street, St. Louis, Mo.

ALPINE AIR BALM
FOR Restoring Gray Hair to Its Original Color.

WARRANTED to cure Baldness, Scurf, Dandruff, itching and all diseases of the scalp. This Balm gives the scalp a new and healthy action; restores the coloring matter to the roots of the hair, which passes through the hair, and gives it a natural color without the use of Hair Dye.

Hundreds of preparations have been introduced, pretending to preserve the hair and keep it from falling off, composed of Oils, Alcohol and other deleterious materials, and all to no use. Hair Dyes have been introduced that do not give the hair a natural color, besides being troublesome to use. This Balm is not a dye. Knowing that a preparation was needed to do what was required for the hair, the proprietor was induced to experiment until he could obtain an article that would be the exact remedy. It is soothing and emollient, allays all irritation of the scalp, thereby stopping that troublesome itching. It cures Dandruff and Scurf, and when the hair has turned gray it will bring it back to its original color, i. e. Black, Brown or Auburn. It makes the hair soft and glossy—prevents it from falling out, will be seen by using this Balm for on a few days—life will be given to the roots of the hair, and growth will soon appear. Growth does not take place at the end of the hair, as will be seen in persons who have their hair dyed. If you examine gray hair that has been cured for a week, you will find towards the roots that the hair has come out gray, hence it is necessary to have the fluid at the roots of the hair healthy, that the whole hair may be a natural color. Each hair has a root in the skin, and is of itself a hollow, gray tube, through which is a constant supply of the pigment from the blood. When this pigment or coloring matter dies out, it leaves the hair hollow and it becomes gray. To invent a Balm that would produce this pigment has become the study of the proprietor. The discovery of the Alpine Air Balm will do it. It will bring the hair to its natural color by making anew the coloring matter in the roots of the hair.

It is a mistaken notion that oil or grease will restore the hair, as nothing can be more injurious. The Alpine Air Balm will restore the skin and save the hair of those who have been sick with fever or any disease.
